JAIL FAVORED FOR SPEEDSTERS

Lima Auto Club Back of Stand
by State Association

Jail sentences for reckless speeders are recommended in a resolution passed by the Ohio State Automobile association which closed its annual meeting in Columbus Tuesday.

The association, of which the Lima Automobile club is a member, voted to obtain a better enforcement of present traffic laws, rather than the enactment of additional laws.

It was held that the present laws, if properly enforced, are stringent enough to meet conditions.

The association went on record as being opposed to enactment of either a two or three cent tax per gallon on gasoline purchased by motorists in Ohio.

Enactment of such a law, which is being urged on the legislature of the state by certain interests, James I. Hoffer, business manager of the Lima club declares will produce $12,000,000 in revenue.

Under certain conditions the state association favors a one cent tax on gasoline, coupled with a charge of $1 for license plates.

Revenue produced annually in this manner, Hoffer declares, will be in excess of that now derived from license plates alone.

In addition, a large number of motorists in the state, especially the farming element, favors appropriating 10 per cent of license and tax money for city and police departments, to defray expense of hiring traffic officers and erecting signs and markers. Police heads of the state are said to be preparing to push a bill of this character, when the state legislature convenes. Of the remaining money, 50 per cent will go for street repair in the communities from which it is derived. The gasoline tax is favored on the grounds that the man who drives the most will pay the largest tax.

LINKS WITH EARLY DAYS SNAPPING

Forbes Calls to Mind Passing of Industrial Founders

Story Prompted by Death of John Wanamaker

(BY B. C. FORBES)

NEW YORK.—(Special).—One by one our living links with the earliest days of different industries and businesses in this country are snapping.

John Wanamaker might almost be said to have been not merely the pioneer but the founder of high-grade retail merchandising in America.

We have only a few of these notable links left.

Edison and C. A. Coffin were in at the start of the electrical industry in this country. The one is 78; the other is 75.

Judge Gary attended the birth of the merger movement in the steel industry which was to give the country a few gigantic corporations. He is 74.

George F. Baker is the only remaining nationally known banker who figured prominently in the earliest days of national banking as we now know it. The head of the First National bank of New York now is 82.

George Eastman, although only 68, was the first large-scale manufacturer of photographic materials in this country. He is still very much alive.

William H. Nichols is the daddy of our heavy chemical industry. At 70 he is very much on the job as the chairman of the board of the Allied Chemical and Dye Corporation.

Charles F. Bricker, the first to establish the big scale brass factories in this country only recently threw off his harness when he sold control of the American Brass Co. to Amoske Corporation. He is 75.

John D. Rockefeller, who was one of the very first to invade the virgin oil fields of Pennsylvania, is of course, still in the flesh at 83.

The father of the woman's magazines of today, Cyrus H. K. Curtis is still at the helm of the various important Curtis publications and although 72 he can walk me off my feet.

William M. Wood, creator of the so-called woolen trust and the dominating figure in the whole woolen industry is still very active, at 64.

F. Wayland Ayer, the first notable and valiant fighter for truth and decency in the advertising business still heads, in his 75th year, the firm which he founded more than half-a-century ago.

I once had a terrible row with Mr. Wanamaker. He angrily forbade me to write anything about him. I told him that, as he had once been postmaster general, he ought to know that this was a free country, and that I reserved the right to write what I pleased about him or any one else so long as I stuck to facts and expressed honest opinions. Our session had quite a stormy ending.

But the next Christmas I received a Christmas card from him.

John Wanamaker really made a tremendously valuable contribution to honest merchandising. He told me that, next to what he had been able to do in wedding education to working in his store he was proudest of having inaugurated in this country, in his very early days, these four reforms; reforms which were revolutionary when instituted.

First—Cash payments on the spot to working people on completion of the work.

Second—Shorter business days.

Third—Not two prices—one price and only one.

Fourth—Taking back anything sold and returning the money in unsatisfactory.

He was proud, too, of the part he had played in introducing in store-keeping, music and art, and of having introduced recreation facilities and military training for store employees.

Yet, Mr. Wanamaker, like the late J. P. Morgan, never indulged in any form of athletics, but found all the recreation he required in his work during the week and his Sunday school and Y. M. C. A. activities on Sunday.

Some people have doubted whether Mr. Wanamaker personally wrote the wonderful, fine little "editorials" which daily accompanied his large advertisements for many years. He did. I have gone thru a whole bundle of the manuscripts if such a digitized word could be applied to notes pencilled on all sorts of odds and ends of white paper, yellow paper, brown paper, the backs of envelopes, the fronts of envelopes, tiny sheets from scribbling pads etc. I have one or two of Mr. Wanamaker's pieces in front of me as I write, one of them pencilled on an envelope. Here is one of the sentences:

"When our patrons say that we have their confidence we shall have reached the goal most desired."

Would you like to read Mr. Wanamaker's full biography, as written by himself?

It consists of these six words: "Thinking, try and trusting to God, is all of my biography."

HARDING'S DRY ACT PLAN RESENTED

sentences on persons who violate the 18th amendment or the Volstead law, with respect to hard liquor.

He is of the opinion that the present system of fining bootleggers and others arrested for prohibition violation is futile, that public sentiment does not support prohibition enforcement as now administered, and that the states should not wait until January when many governors will be occupied with their legislative sessions, to formulate their program of cooperation with the federal government.

KU KLUX QUESTION
In addition to injecting the prohibition question, Governor Parker conferred with Governor Henry Allen of Kansas, Governor Elliott of Oregon and Governor Lloyd of Missouri, on the activities of the Ku Klux Klan.

Parker urged these and other state executives to get behind his program for dealing with the Klan. He wants a law requiring all members of secret orders to be registered with the department of justice and another to prohibit masking by members of any organization.

Parker, whose fight against the Klan in Louisiana has gained him nation-wide notice in the past few weeks also discussed with his colleagues the practicability of prosecuting officials of the Klan for acts committed by members. He cited the recent Coronado case decision by the United States supreme court.

In that decision the court held that officials of labor unions were responsible for acts of individual members. Parker said he did not know whether the decision would apply to organizations like the Klan, but wanted the question considered.

CEMENT TRUST
In addition to discussing the Klan and prohibition the governors may ask President Harding to help in a fight on the so-called cement trust thru the elastic provisions of the new tariff law. Governor McCray, Indiana, is leading this movement and will have the support of Parker and others. Parker will suggest as one means of reducing price of cement to states desiring it for road building that Harding take off the duty temporarily under his authority conferred by the tariff law, or that he let states import cement duty free.

Today's session was opened by Governor Sprout, Pennsylvania, presiding officer of the governors association. The visiting delegates were welcomed by Governor Morgan, West Virginia and at once plunged into a program of speech making and general discussion. On Friday the governors will go to Beckley, W. Va., to inspect a coal mine.

PATTERNMAKERS TO ENJOY PIG ROAST AT "Y" TONIGHT

Annual pig roast by the patternmakers of Lima will be held Thursday at 6.30 p. m. at the Y. M. C. A. It is expected that practically every man engaged in the craft will attend the meeting.

The feature of the evening will be the serving of young pig, roasted whole.

Music, instrumental and vocal and boxing will also form a part of the evening's entertainment.

Stranger Sought In Coal Mystery

Police were puzzled Wednesday night in a "black diamond" mystery.

Who stole the coal was the problem they sought to solve.

It all happened this way. E. P. Milbaugh, E. Kibby-st and the D. T. & I, observed strangers drive up to his coal yard with a horse and wagon. Before he was able to order them away they had loaded the wagon with at least 900 pounds of fuel. Milbaugh's alarms caused them to depart in a hurry. They left the horse and wagon.

Police were called to investigate. They unloaded the coal and confiscated the horse and wagon.

A few hours later, P. M. Albert, 119 Water-st, called headquarters and claimed the rig. He said he rented it to a stranger. The outfit was turned over to him.

Now police are seeking the stranger.

SOUTH HIGH GLEE CLUB TO PRESENT OPERETTA AT CENTRAL, FRIDAY NIGHT

An operetta, "In Old Louisiana," by May Howes Dodge and John Wilson Dodge, will be presented by the South High Glee club at Central high school auditorium, Friday at 8 p. m.

The theme of the operetta is said to be one of the most unique and interesting ever presented before a Lima audience. It deals with the old South prior to the Civil War.

Interesting features of the production include a Creole dance and song number, a spectacular duel, a Maypole dance and an abundance of negro comedy.

The leading characters are as follows: Richard St. John, a young sugar planter, Weldon Winegardner; Pilot Robert Farley, pilot on the steamer, "Eclipse," Ralph Bedwell; Rose, Pilot Farley's adopted daughter; Catherine Chaney; Monty Gray, Richard's friend from the north; Carl Byrley; Simon Souder, Jack Martin and Rolly Fimms, villains; Old Ned and his wife, Judy, negro servants of the Pilots.

Music and dramatic work are in charge of Miss Catherine Jones and W. M. Brunsmann. The dances are under the direction of Miss Mildred Hadsell while Miss Sophia Roes is in charge of the costumes.

Proceeds from the operetta will be used in defraying the expenses of a piano for the school.

JOHN W. REED TO HEAD GAME PROTECTIVE BODY

Plans to increase the membership of the Allen County Fish and Game Protective association, formed Wednesday night at a meeting at the Elks home, will be discussed at a meeting at the same place Wednesday night of next week.

At the first meeting, John W. Reed, president of the Lima Gun club, was elected president; Charles E. Hanes, Hen-co game protector, secretary and K. B. Richter treasurer.

The new society will absorb the Lima Gun club, according to present plans and will include the only Allen-co member of the Isaac Walton club, A. M. Herrett.

MASSACRE AVERTED

Yield to Demand for Christian Protection

ANSWER TO ULTIMATUM

Prevents Break up of the Near East Conference

(By HENRY WOOD)
LAUSANNE—(United Press)—The conference in the Near East, which was expected to break up today, was averted at the eleventh hour today, when the British spokesman, Lord Curzon, announced that the British government had accepted the ultimatum of the Turkish government. The conference had reached a deadlock over the demand for Christian protection in Turkish territory.

cries as Ismet Pasha rose to reply, for Marquis Curzon yesterday left him with an ultimatum to accept the League and guarantee the safety of Christians, or end the parley. The strong stand taken by the British spokesman shaped the Turkish, but left the allies fearful of a break. It was believed that extremists among the Ottomans might precipitate trouble in the Near East if the Lausanne peace conference was ended summarily. Great relief, therefore, was felt at the conciliatory tone of Pasha's reply. America had no voice in the ultimatum delivered to Turkey yesterday but Ambassador Child, United States observer previously had announced for protection of Christians in Turkish territory.

PRINCE IMPROVING
TOKIO.—Prince Regent Hirohito, who has been seriously ill with measles, was reported at noon today to be improving. His temperature which yesterday was around 104, has dropped to slightly more than 101 and his pulse which had been between 108 and 110 is now 86.

TO OPEN SCHOOL
COLUMBUS.—A school for deputy internal revenue collectors to make them more perfect in income tax work is to be established here by the government. Instructors will be sent from Washington.

MOTHER! BREAK CHILD'S COLD

Hurry! Move Little Bowels with
"California Fig Syrup"

No matter what else you give your child to relieve a bad cold, sore throat or congestion, be sure first to open the little one's bowels with "California Fig Syrup" to get rid of the poisons and waste which are causing the cold and congestion. In a few hours you can see for yourself how thoroughly it works the constipation, sour bile and waste right out. Even if you call your family physician he will praise you for having given "California Fig Syrup" as the laxative because it never fails, never cramps or overacts, and even sick children love its pleasant taste. Ask your druggist for genuine "California Fig Syrup" which has directions for babies and children of all ages printed on bottle. Mother! You must say "California" or you may get an imitation fig syrup. —Adv.

PIRATES TO FACE COURT

Invokes New Legal Precedent in Triangles

VAMP BELONGS THE BOOT

Works Well—Three Families Effect Reconciliation

By ROY J. GIBBONS

CHICAGO — (Special) "To the belongs the boot, the legal action," says Judge Timothy D. of the superior court here, has just invoked a new legal precedent in ridding oppressed families from third corner triangle "pirates" by enjoining them from preying on their victims. This method of dealing with problems which heretofore have been left to the unwritten law, and a "gun party," has caused a change of opinion in the country over the pirate carry about with love in this country, where the collection of homes, is the basis of our national life, and civilization," says Judge Hurst, then after that the state, and then the country. Destroy the family and you destroy all. "Heretofore, the law in chancery and equity proceedings has always supposed that where love or affection or property was injured the proper recourse by the aggrieved party lay in an action for damages—money or some equivalent thing of value to recompense for the harm done. FORESTALL TROUBLE

"But the injury in such cases had already been done. Why lock the stable door when the domestic happiness had fled? Better still to have halted the harm beforehand, if it were possible.

"And that is what I am endeavoring to do. Because no human love can adequately be measured in dollars, and because such property is worth more than all the wealth in the world, it therefore must stand, that a party willfully deprived of love and happiness by an interloper, has no adequate remedy or recourse at law.

"If more property—base money, chattels and other tangible things can be enjoined from harm—then why can't love be safeguarded by humans thru their courts, when love is by far the greatest possession ever bestowed on any of us?

"If more courts thruout the country kept campfires from erring husbands and love pirates from silly wives, there would be fewer divorces, because an injunction would stop the trouble before it became too deep-seated.

On three occasions, since he announced his vamping scheme here, Judge Hurley has issued "love pirate" injunctions which barred the correspondent named in a divorce action from further consorting in any way with the divorce defendant.

In each instance the parties to the divorce effected reconciliations and dismissed the complaints.

WAYNESFIELD MAN IS RELIEVED

Says the Plant Juice Went to Right Spot at Once in His Case

IT RELIEVED HIS STOMACH

"Your Plant Juice goes right to the spot," said Mr. W. M. Brown, of Waynesfield, Ohio, during a recent conversation with The Plant Juice Man at Hunter's drug store, 49 Public Square, Lima, where he is now meeting large crowds of local people daily and introducing and explaining his new herbal remedy. Mr. Brown is well known at Waynesfield and also has many friends in Lima. Continuing, he said:

MR. W. M. BROWN

"For a long time I had suffered with my stomach and kidneys. Almost anything I ate would cause my stomach to bloat. My bowels were irregular and I had to be taking something for them nearly all the time. I did not sleep well and was run down in general and suffered from pains across my back, due to the kidney trouble.

"I read about your Plant Juice and what it was doing for so many people in my condition and so I started taking it. I can honestly say that your Plant Juice is remarkable in its action upon the system in general. I am already greatly benefited and am improving right along from the use of Plant Juice. I eat and sleep fine now; have been relieved of the bloating in my stomach and my bowels are in fine condition. The pains are leaving my back."

Plant Juice has brought surprising results in a great many Lima cases. Many people who take this medicine say it seems to act like magic upon the stomach, liver and kidneys.

The Plant Juice Man is at Hunter's drug store, 49 Public Square, Lima, where he is daily meeting the local public and introducing and explaining the merits of this remedy. Free samples given.

Plant Juice is sold also in Lima at Hunter's drug store at Main and Wayne streets and at the Argonne drug store, opposite Post Office.

None of Us Like to Be Forgotten

During the Civil War, at the close of the Civil War, he saw the students come in and back-slash of the long procession of students through the pass.

He said to himself: "These will go and others will come. The professors will go and others will take their place. My farm would just about endow a chair, so I will go home and deed it to this college. Then, by the grace of God, I shall be here while the world stands."

None of us like to be forgotten. From the time of Cheops to the present day, men have been building pyramids and tombs, erecting obelisks and monuments to tell that they are dead, but the man who puts his money into the endowment of a college leaves a memorial to tell that he is alive as long as the institution stands.

Ohio Wesleyan is a living monument to the financial foresight of her benefactors—of service to God and humanity.

2,500 RENOUNCE DANCE, CARDS

Thrilling Climax of Sermon by Dr. Biederwolf

MEETINGS CLOSE MONDAY

Rise in Temperature Aids Heating of Pine Temple

More than 2,500 persons between the ages of 14 and 40 walked the sawdust trail at the tabernacle Wednesday night, giving Dr. W. E. Biederwolf their word of honor they will never again dance or sit in a game of cards. They promised they would live better lives and try each day to be more like their Heavenly Father.

The evening service was well attended. In spite of very disagreeable weather, 6,000 persons were within the big pine temple. The afternoon meeting was not so large, only 200 people being present. Biederwolf spoke on "Russellism."

For every church member who is in favor of the popular dance of today, I can bring ten non-church members who are against it and say that it is rotten," Biederwolf said.

"It seems that the non-church members look the thing straight in the face and they can see that it is harmful to society, for they know that the present day dance has its base in the passions of human nature."

The meeting was opened with a short song service, after which prayer was offered by Rev. Townsend, pastor of the Central Church of Christ.

Delegations were present from Alger, Lima Modern Woodmen of America, nurses from the City hospital and the Salvation Army.

CHILDREN'S SERVICE: E. J. Rollings, assistant evangelist, announced that regular services would be held through the week. He especially urged the children to be present Friday at 4 p. m. This will be a children's meeting and Rollings expects to organize a child's choir to sing at the Saturday evening service.

He also announced that there will be union church services at the tabernacle Sunday at 10:30 a. m. Sunday school will be held at the various churches, but there will be no morning preaching in any of the co-operating churches. The evangelist will address another men's meeting Sunday afternoon.

Dr. W. E. Biederwolf announced that the tabernacle meetings will close Monday, completing a campaign of five weeks and six Sundays in Lima. He expressed his great pleasure over the big crowds that have been attending the services, the sincerity of those converted and the interest that has been taken in the meetings by the people of nearby towns as well as by citizens of Lima.

E. J. Rollings sang a solo, after which Dr. Biederwolf said he would speak to the congregation on the two greatest sources of America's amusement, the card table and the dance. "The two great stones upon which I must found my sermon are the stones of self-sacrifice and position," he asserted. "To be successful in this world and gain the favor of Jesus Christ, we must give up a lot of the world's pleasures when they are harmful to us. And even if it were not for that, we should consider the position we are in. There are many who will fall or rise by following us. We have no idea who has picked us out as the one they want to pattern after. So it is up to us to set good examples."

"There must be a difference in the lives of church members and the lives of non-church members. God expects more of the man who has given himself into His keeping than He does of the man who has not. We church members must set a good example and live clean white lives, for we believe in Jesus Christ and want to enter the Kingdom of Heaven, or we would have never joined His church in the first place."

"The wrong of the card table does not lie in the actual playing, but in the results which come from the playing. The card table is the gambler's chief motive of gambling. Nine-tenths of the world's gambling is done with playing cards and nine-tenths of the world's gamblers learn the game at home."

DANGER IN CARDS "The big professional gamblers of our country are insisting that card playing be encouraged in the home. So are the average mothers of today. They demand that for their daughter and their son to be in best society, they must be good card players. Fathers, too, believe in this sort of a thing. Can it be that the fathers and mothers of our country are of the same mind as the gamblers? Well, it looks that way, but they are not. They just don't realize what they are doing. It is because human nature is what it is, that we cannot be too careful."

"So much for the card table," he declared. "I have shown you the awfulness of the dance and of the card table, won't you come up here and give me your word for Jesus Christ, that you will never more play a game of cards or be a partner at a dance? All of the people between the ages of 14 and 40 who are willing to give these things up for God, get to your feet and come to the front for Him," he exclaimed.

At the invitation 2,500 men and women assembled at the foot of the altar and in the dim light of the cross they promised God that they would forsake the dance and the card game.

rest up to the men and women of pure minds who have listened here tonight, and I don't know how any reasonable thinking person can disagree with me. But I want to dwell on the dance of today, for it is as far the most terrible of the two.

"I have nothing to say of the old fashioned square dance. I could never see anything wrong in it, but the dance of today should be taken more seriously by the fathers and mothers. There is no such thing as a square dance any more. Many dances go under that name and they start off in the old square fashion, but in a very few minutes the corners are all knocked off and we have the popular round dance that every one seems to have lost their heads over."

"The fascination of the dance is one of the hardest sins to overcome. Young men and young women who have given their lives to dancing are the hardest of all to get into the church of Christ."

"Why? Because the present dance has its base in the passions of human nature. The woman who dances with only her husband and the girl who dances with only her brother, gets tired quickest and goes home the earliest."

"Even the dancing masters have come to the realization that the dance of today is not moral and they have taken steps to stop the popular dance and revert it to the dances of yesterday. They know that if nothing is done, the dance will go to a degree unthought of and their business will be ruined. And still, in face of all that, the ladies of the church insist that dancing is not harmful and their children are always making harm out of it."

"Many young women say they are not responsible for a young man's sin. They insist that they are above any evil thoughts connected with dancing and if he is not as strong as they it is not their fault."

"They do not stop to think that the Bible says: 'Thou art thy brother's keeper.'"

"If you will not listen to moral reasons for the sin of the dance, will you listen to religious reasons?" Biederwolf asked. "The Holy Bible is against it. If you are a church member and still insist upon dancing, you are not a good church member and should stop a minute and look yourself straight in the face and get right with God."

THE WAY OF WOMEN "A crowd of girls and women will encourage another sister, who is living a christian life to go with them and enjoy the world. She does not want to go, but with their flattery and deceit they persuade her to join them in the dance and at the card table. Then if she is weaker than they and falls into the snare of the world and goes down in sin, do they run to her as they should and pick her up and lift her back into the position they brought her from? No! they gather their skirts about them and collecting in a laughing, jeering crowd they gossip about her and tear her to pieces. It is known that three-fourths of America's girls have fallen into sin and shame because of the dance."

"Now," he declared, "that I have shown you the awfulness of the dance and of the card table, won't you come up here and give me your word for Jesus Christ, that you will never more play a game of cards or be a partner at a dance? All of the people between the ages of 14 and 40 who are willing to give these things up for God, get to your feet and come to the front for Him," he exclaimed.

At the invitation 2,500 men and women assembled at the foot of the altar and in the dim light of the cross they promised God that they would forsake the dance and the card game.

SEEKS TO AVOID DUPLICATION

Christmas Mother Supervises System in Giving

Avoid duplication.

This is the watchword of the Christmas Mother and her aides in the preparations for the holiday gifts and donations by individuals and civic organizations of the city.

Duplication means waste by the persons who receive the extra gifts and privation by those who are missed and receive nothing. Mrs. J. E. Grosjean, the Christmas Mother, points out. Duplication has been the main trouble in the past.

"If every individual, family or organization which expects to do anything for some needy person or family will let us know, we will see that any other aid offered that family will either be in such a form as to be of use without waste, or will be diverted to someone who will be missed otherwise," Mrs. Grosjean said Thursday.

While those who are donating food or clothing to a family believe they are the only ones who are expecting to provide for them, Mrs. Grosjean has discovered that every needy family has several prospective benefactors and that duplication of effort results.

Anyone who would like to aid some family or boy or girl can obtain the names of needy ones by calling the Christmas Mother at Main 2195, or visiting the headquarters in the Business College building, she points out.

One of the activities reported to the Christmas Mother is the Child Welfare program. A large number of toys have been donated and the College Women's club members have made dresses for the dolls which will be given to the children in the care of the association.

Other organizations are planning extensive preparations, according to advices received at headquarters, and the work this year will be broader and more systematic than ever before.

CHRIST CHURCH WILL BANQUET MEN'S CLUB

Biederwolf Hot Shots

Temperature in the tabernacle was comfortable Wednesday night. Another furnace was placed in the building Wednesday. They didn't have time to connect it and make it ready to hold fire, but a rise in temperature outside helped.

"Alger must have sent their best choir of picked singers. The singing was very good," E. J. Rollings said. "In fact I think their singing was ahead of the very best we have heard from delegates."

"We are mighty glad to have you folks here tonight," said Rollings to the nurses of Lima City Hospital. "We've enjoyed your singing and would rather see you here than at the hospital."

"Some of America's noblest and best women are doing a grand work in the hospitals of our country," Dr. Biederwolf said. "The Red Cross nurses played a very important part in the late war and we should all be proud of them."

"It would be just as harmful to let your son indulge in drinking whisky in the home as to allow and encourage him in card playing or the parlor dance," Biederwolf asserted.

"In the so-called square dance of today, the corners are soon knocked off."

"Dancers are the hardest people to bring into the church."

Biederwolf Program

Thursday, 7 p. m. The church men of Lima will meet at the Y. M. C. A. and march to the tabernacle in a body, preceded by a band.

Thursday, 7:30 p. m. Dr. Biederwolf will preach on the "Refuge of Lies." Thursday night will be "Churchmen's Night." The men will not be seated according to denomination, but the center section of seats will be reserved for them.

Friday, 10 a. m. Regular cottage prayer meetings.

Friday, 4 p. m. Children's Day. Mrs. Frances C. Allison, Miss Florence E. Hay and E. J. Rollings will have charge of the meeting. Rollings is very anxious for a large number of young people to be present at this meeting, as he intends to organize a choir of children to sing at the Saturday evening service.

Friday, 7:30 p. m. Dr. Biederwolf will preach on "Staying in the Race." This sermon will be especially for those who have given their souls into God's keeping during these meetings.

JOBS PLentiful IN U. S. NOW

Takes Running Start on Predicted Climb in New Year, Survey of Country Shows—Unemployment Wiped Out in Some States

Lima News Bureau,
Washington, Dec. 14.

(BY HARRY B. HUNT)

WASHINGTON—(Special)—America has taken a running start on its predicted 1923 climb to the high seat in the band of General Prosperity.

Unemployment has ceased to exist in a number of states, and the total number of jobless in the country is the smallest at any time since the after-the-war slump of 1921. In August of that year, there were 5,735,000 workers out of jobs.

With transportation handicaps removed, credit difficulties smoothed and public confidence restored, it is predicted that 1923 will enjoy a wave of general prosperity.

Such is the verdict of Francis I. Jones, chief of the unemployment section of the U. S. Department of Labor, following his December survey of employment conditions.

Expansion of employment during the last month has been greatest for any period this year," says Jones. "Further expansion was prevented only by inadequate transportation. Car shortages hampered lumbering in Washington and Oregon, and mining in Idaho and Montana.

Increased production in the iron and steel industry, textiles, automobiles, mining, and other industries is a report of conditions by states.

ALABAMA: Increase in employment in iron and steel industries. Highway construction about all surplus common labor.

ARIZONA: Only unemployed are voluntarily idle. Large demand for farm and highway labor.

ARKANSAS: Coal mining brisk; common labor in fair demand; surplus adequate.

CALIFORNIA: Surplus of unskilled laborers. Shortage in lumbering, agriculture, and other activities. Strong demand for farm laborers in larger cities.

CONNECTICUT: Nearly all industries operating to full capacity with surplus forces. Shortage of unskilled laborers.

DELAWARE: Increased employment in various industries but demand in chemical industries.

FLORIDA: Transients causing shortage of common labor. Lumber working full time. Fruit harvesting and road building absorbing surplus labor.

GEORGIA: Cotton and lumber largely increase employment. Shortage in building trades.

IDaho: Employment in eastern sections quiet in west. Lumber and road building absorbing surplus labor.

ILLINOIS: Employment best in years. Car shops and glass, furniture musical instrument factories increase work. Construction of coal mining 50 per cent. Steel mills increasing to 80 per cent of capacity. Farm, common labor scarce.

INDIANA: Industries busy, building active, common labor needed. Automotive industry at high level of employment. Farm hands scarce.

IOWA: Inadequate transportation hampers flour milling, but packing, railroad shops, iron and steel increase employment. Lumber active in cities.

KANSAS: Farm help needed, work employing much common labor, but railway shops, tire factories on part time.

KENTUCKY: Employment increased in tobacco, leather, lumber, paper, chemical, textile and building material industries. Coal mines, railroads employing more men. Highway construction and building trades active.

LOUISIANA: Lumbering, shipyards, oil fields, building trades, highway construction gaining in employment. Common labor demand fair.

MAINE: Practically all industries running full time. Shortage of workers in textile and building trades.

MARYLAND: Small employment gains by food and textile plants offset by decreased chemical and agriculture production. Sugar refineries, lumber hiring more men.

MASSACHUSETTS: Textile, shoe, furniture, cordage plants running to capacity. Building trades need men.

MICHIGAN: Automotive industry maintaining unusually high employment rate. Food, hardware, furniture plants increasing operations. Serious labor shortage in lumber woods and in unskilled work in cities. Transportation difficulties biggest handicap.

MINNESOTA: Meat packing, steel works show gains, while flour milling restricted by transportation. Building activities declining. Surplus of female office help. Lumber camps employing released harvest hands.

MISSISSIPPI: Lumbering increasing payrolls despite car shortage. Textile, iron and steel, chemical, food and allied industries show gains.

MISSOURI: Railroads, mines, metal industries, shoe factories, meat packing show increased employment. Good demand for farm help.

MONTANA: Increased employment in larger mining camps and much new development work. Coal mining hampered by car shortage. Lumber mills resuming operation.

NEBRASKA: Car shortage reduces employment in many lines, agricultural help demand declines with winter. Meat packing, building work good.

NEVADA: Mining, lumbering increasing forces. Building highways, railroad construction augment crews.

NEW HAMPSHIRE: Quarries adding employees but still below normal payrolls. Textile work slack owing to lack of trucking.

NEW JERSEY: Shortage of building mechanics, common labor, heavy and mill workers. Iron, steel, machinery, textile, leather and foreign plants on upgrade.

NEW YORK: Employment in many plants largest in two years. Unemployment practically wiped out. Metal, textile, leather, chemical, rubber, paper, electrical, auto accessory industries all report increases. Labor shortages in many lines. Building continues on large scale.

NORTH CAROLINA: Cotton, lumber mills increase forces as agriculture releases workers.

NORTH DAKOTA: Surplus of skilled labor, female office help. OHIO: Unemployment rapidly disappearing. Rubber, metal, brick, farm implement plants booming. Many cities report labor shortage, both skilled and unskilled. Small surplus of clerical help.

OKLAHOMA: Metal, oil, lumber and railroad operations improved. Abundant supply of unskilled labor, with limited demand.

OREGON: Lumbering normal, building, highway work slackening. Unemployment beginning to be noted in larger centers.

PENNSYLVANIA: Industrial expansion is general rule. Steel industry 80 per cent of capacity. Coal, automotive, railway equipment show gains. Labor and car shortage, slow production in western part.

RHODE ISLAND: Textile near normal. Jewelry, silverware plants full capacity. Metal industries 75 per cent normal. Building craftsmen in demand.

to lack trouble. Machinery industry using reduced force. Some industry shows improvement. Building active.

NEW JERSEY: Shortage of building mechanics, common labor, heavy and mill workers. Iron, steel, machinery, textile, leather and foreign plants on upgrade.

NEW YORK: Employment in many plants largest in two years. Unemployment practically wiped out. Metal, textile, leather, chemical, rubber, paper, electrical, auto accessory industries all report increases. Labor shortages in many lines. Building continues on large scale.

RHODE ISLAND: Textile near normal. Jewelry, silverware plants full capacity. Metal industries 75 per cent normal. Building craftsmen in demand.

SOUTH CAROLINA: Fertilizer, cotton, lumber plants increase employment. Farm help in demand.

SOUTH DAKOTA: Surplus in skilled and common labor. Many workers migrating to northern lumber camps.

TEXAS: Oil, food, metal, building and textile industries show moderate increase of workers. Other lines show decline. Common labor supply ample.

TENNESSEE: Lumber, coal, leather, chemical, tobacco show good employment outlook. Car shortage hampers coal and lumber. White iron, steel and clay production on decline. Highway building employs several thousand men.

UTAH: Smelters increasing forces, 1,000 copper miners needed, building and industries increasing in vigor.

VERMONT: Granite plants on part time basis. Lumber mills active and woodworkers scarce.

VIRGINIA: Textile, metals, tobacco, food and leather plants show gains. Coal mining shows steady gain.

WASHINGTON: Car shortage cripples fruit industry and lumbering, increasing unemployment of unskilled labor. Steel mills busy, building active.

WEST VIRGINIA: Coal, iron and steel, textile plants show increases, despite car shortage. Labor trouble reduces stone, clay and glass production.

WISCONSIN: Hardwood, leather, foundry and toolmaking plants all show increased employment. Automobile and truck employment drops. Building active thru winter.

WYOMING: Big Teapot oil field construction continues, employing many in construction of oil tanks, pipe lines, refineries, etc. Coal mines operating to transportation capacity. Highway work active.

AGENTS TO INITIATE Delphos Aerie, F. O. Eagles, is planning an initiation for January 10. It will be the third of a series since the lodge began a membership drive. Thirty-four new members have already been added. The next class is expected to include 50 candidates.

FAILS TO GET BLANKS Redemption of 1918 War Savings Stamps may be held up more than a week because of failure of the department to send blanks for the purpose of making out applications, according to Postmaster Ed Truesdale, of Delphos.

PROBERS WORKING IN SECRET

Hospital Investigation Just Begun, Committee Says

TRUSTEES STAR WITNESSES

Inquiry to be Made into Proposed Sale of Hens

Behind closed and locked doors of the District Tuberculosis hospital, southwest of Lima, the committee appointed to investigate affairs of the institution passed its third day, Thursday.

The probe is still in its infancy, according to members, and may run for two or more weeks before all of the half hundred witnesses to be summoned have told their story.

Trustees of the institution, suspended Saturday, are to be star witnesses, but may not be called this week.

Indications are that the findings of the committee up to date have not substantiated the charges of recklessness and gross extravagance laid at the door of Dr. C. A. Files, superintendent, by the board of trustees.

Neither Files nor Dr. J. M. Patterson, Allen co. trustee, have been called. The committee will question them toward the close of the hearing, after they have gathered complete data.

PLAN BLOCKED Appointment of the committee blocked plans laid by the trustees to retire Files from duty January 1.

Had the trustees gone thru with their plans, the position of superintendent was to have been abolished and the hospital placed in charge of a mission.

A visiting physician would have been retained to visit the hospital daily.

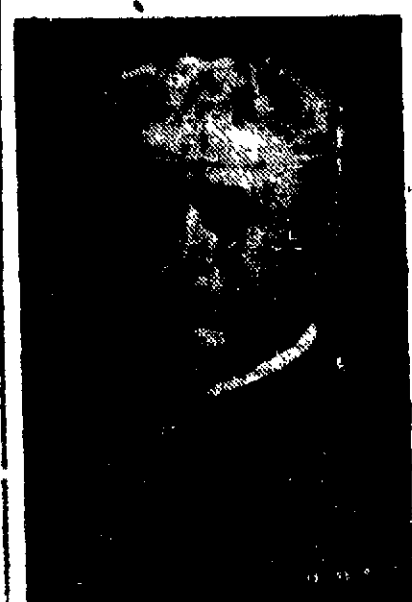

The committee of five, it is believed, is determined to find out who the trustees had in mind for mission and for visiting physician.

That body may also investigate the proposed sale of the hospital's poultry flocks, numbering several thousand hens.

Dr. Patterson at one time proposed such a move to the Allen co. commissioners, it is said. He represented that the flock was a needless expense and that the cost of feed would purchase all the eggs needed at the institution.

One of the commissioners replied that if this was true, farmers of Allen co. had certainly been foolish, most of their lives.

DELPHOS MAN CHARGED DENIAL OF FAIR TRIAL

That he was denied the right of a fair trial, and was convicted on a liquor charge without a legal hearing, is alleged in an action filed in common pleas court by William H. Hersey, Delphos, against Mayor J. K. Williams.

Hersey sets forth that he was arrested December 6, on a charge of furnishing and delivering liquor to one John Smith.

Mayor Williams is alleged to have asked Hersey a few questions on arraignment and then adjudged him guilty. The defendant alleges that he had no opportunity to seek counsel.

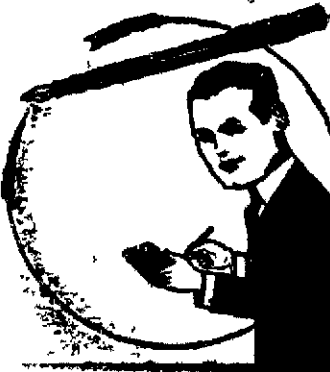

If the verdict was acceptable, Hersey's fine was to be $200, he declared. Otherwise, he was threatened with a $500 fine, which he said was later levied.

HOPKINS FINED $10 FOR ALLEGED ASSAULT

Harry Hopkins, 41, 530 Ewing-av, was fined $10 in police court, Thursday, charged with assault upon H. G. Miller, 1061 B. Union-st. The two men are said to have engaged in a battle while at work at the locomotive works.

When Miller filed the warrant against Hopkins, he exhibited scratches on his face. Hopkins admitted clawing him.

HOG CHOLERA AND ROUP DECIMATING DROVES AND FLOCKS NEAR DELPHOS

Severity of cholera among hogs in the Delphos district is being mistaken for an epidemic, according to Dr. E. Ziegenbusch, local veterinarian. The disease has strongly asserted itself in many places, but the cases have for the most part been segregated, according to Ziegenbusch.

An instance in which a farmer near Delphos lost 24 head out of a herd of 58 has been reported, but, in bearing out his assertion that the cholera is not epidemic, the veterinarian pointed out that the disease has not appeared on farms nearby. Roup among chickens is being manifested, entire flocks being wiped out in some instances, but the disease is no worse than at the same time in previous years, it is reported.

LOSES SACK OF COAL, IS FINED FOR LARCENY

Sack of coal which he was forced to drop before he could get away with it, cost Grover Knittle, 8 Central-av, $10 in police court Thursday.

Knittle was fined that sum by Judge Jackson when he admitted stealing from the Peerless Coal company. He is a teamster for another coal company, he told the court.

Getting Too Fat? Try This—Reduce

People who don't grow too fat are the fortunate exception. But if you find the fat accumulating, or already too cumbersome, you will be wise to follow this suggestion, which is endorsed by thousands of people who know. Ask your druggist for Marmola's Prescription Tablets and follow directions. One dollar is the price the world over. Get them from your own druggist or send twice direct to Marmola Co., 4615 Woodward Ave., Detroit, Mich. By doing this you will be safe from harmful drugs and be able to reduce steadily and easily, without starvation diet or thrashing exercise. — Adv.

$1,700,000 RUM CARGO SUNK

Dumped Into Ocean by Crew of Runner's Ship

ANGERED AT LIQUOR OWNERS

Fail in Efforts to Run Government Blockade

NEW YORK — (Associated Press) — A part of a liquor cargo valued at $1,700,000 at bootleg prices, has been dumped into the ocean off Freeport, Long Island, according to a report received by Frank J. Hale and James R. Kerrigan, chief intelligence officers for the prohibition enforcement department.

The whiskey brought here from the Bahamas, was thrown overboard when members of the rum runner's crew were angered at failure of the cargo's owners in New York either to get water and food supplies to the ship or to unload the liquor.

The vessel lay in the liquor camping grounds for several days, according to the federal agents, while small boats, operated by owners of the cargo, made futile efforts to run the government blockade and obtain the liquor.

After dumping the liquor, the ship started on the return trip to the Bahamas, it was stated.

KANSAS LAYS CLAIM TO PRETTIEST CHORUS GIRLS

NEW YORK — Governor Henry J. Allen of Kansas thinks the prettiest chorus girls on Broadway come from his state.

He said so last night when he tossed aside gubernatorial dignity to hold the spotlight on the stage of a popular musical comedy, surrounded by half a hundred of the most beautiful chorus girls that ever blossomed in the white light district.

He had jumped onto the stage to engage in a friendly exchange of repartee with a comedian and seemed to be getting the better of the argument when the management turned loose the entire chorus. As the girls scampered toward him the delighted audience expected the governor to beat a hasty retreat. But instead of being overwhelmed he shouted to the girls: "You're mighty pretty. I am sure most of you must have come from Kansas."

SNOWBALL WARS ORDER OF DAY

Bombardment with snowballs was the order of the day among the kiddies Thursday. Luckless citizens who chanced to be caught between the opposing factions were forced to run for cover, or join one or the other of the sides in the melee.

Snow which fell during Wednesday night may not tarry long, due to possibility of rain. However, the volume may be increased, for there is likelihood of more precipitation. Read the prediction:

Snow or rain to-night and Friday; warmer in southern portion to-night; colder Friday in west portion. Wary citizens are on the lookout for snowball wars when the ground is covered with "the makin'." It isn't healthy to be caught in such a predicament, but it's a chance everyone is required to take.

FARM BODIES IN CONVENTION

Cooperation Marketing Associations Meet at Washington

WASHINGTON, — (Associated Press) — What its sponsors characterize as the most important movement for farmers ever inaugurated was launched today with the assembling of the first national council of farmers cooperative marketing associations. Delegates representing the associations interested in every major product, from cotton of the south to California fruit came to Washington to take part in the three day conference.

The program included a complete review of the cooperative marketing movement in America featuring the handling of cotton, tobacco, fruit, grain, dairy products and other farm products. Other general topics of discussion were cooperative financing and rural credits legislation; common problems of co-operative marketing associations and how to handle them; problems of each commodity group and cooperative education of the farmers and the public.

The program arranged for today's session was devoted largely to hearing addresses by Secretary Wallace, Secretary Hoover, Dr. Julius Klein, director of the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce, and representatives of farm organization.

PENSION PETITIONS TO BE FILED NEXT WEEK

CLEVELAND — Initiative petitions to establish a system of old age pensions for qualified Ohioans, 65 or older, will be filed next week. Thomas J. Donnelly, secretary of the Ohio Federation of Labor, said today.

The move is sponsored by trade unions of the state and the Fraternal Order of Eagles. Petitions for a constitutional amendment authorizing income and inheritance taxes to pay pensions have also been circulated.

If the Ohio general assembly does not pass the bill it will be submitted directly to voters at the same time as the amendment, according to plans. Pensions would be paid at a rate not exceeding $350 a year, under the proposed law.

KLUX INDORSE SUNDAY'S WORK
Pledges Support to Evangelist at Dayton
Packed Up By $50 CHECK
Thinks Public Sentiment Will Kill Secret Order

DAYTON — (United Press) — Rights of the Ku Klux Klan today were on record as endorsing the kind of religion Billy Sunday has been preaching in Dayton for the last six weeks.

A letter, addressed to the evangelist, including a check for $50 was sent from the platform last night by Homer Rodeheaver, master of ceremonies.

The letter praised the efforts of the evangelist and pledged its full support to him in his endeavor. It also expressed the public acknowledgment of the letter and the check.

FORCE PRESENT
In the audience were Chief of Police Woodward, 24 uniformed patrolmen and ten plainclothesmen. In addition there was a contingent of police on the outside of the tabernacle.

The concluding paragraph of the letter said:

"May God in His wisdom and mercy to inspire you to continue the work you are doing, so that when America's manhood and womanhood have passed from the detestable bounds of the invisible empire, into the pearly gates of the empire invisible, that Jesus Christ, sitting at the right hand of the throne of God, will say 'Well done.' Then good and faithful Klansmen, pass on."

OPPOSES ANTI-KLUX LEAGUE
DAYTON — (United Press) — Rabbi Samuel Myerberg, foremost Jewish divine in Dayton, takes issue with the American Unity League, founded in Chicago for the purpose of fighting the Ku Klux Klan to a finish.

The rabbi was discussing a report that leagues were to be formed in Cleveland, Cincinnati, Dayton and other Ohio cities, when he said:

"I would not join a chapter of the American Unity League and would not favor such an organization in Dayton, because I fear it would resort to the same methods to wipe out the Klan that the Klan has used or is accused of using in carrying out its program."

"Public sentiment will eventually suppress the Klan and no organization is needed to do it."

CAR MOVED, SAMPLE CASE STOLEN FROM AUTOMOBILE

When R. L. Eley, 430 N. Jameson, sought his automobile after parking it downtown Wednesday, he found it a block away from the original stopping point.

The fact that the machine had been moved aroused his suspicion. He examined it and discovered that his sample case and contents, valued at $65, had been stolen.

Eley made a report of the incident to police.

MUNICIPAL BLOC IMPENDS

SUGGESTION made by Earl Rohn, city commissioner, that an assembly of heads of Ohio municipalities be called and held at Columbus and the action that resulted therefrom, is seen by political writers as the formation of a "municipal bloc" within the next Ohio general assembly.

Forecast of that character was made in Columbus following a meeting of mayors and city managers of the larger municipalities of the state, affiliated with the Ohio Municipal League. The officials decided to put forth efforts to obtain support from the legislators for the proposed taxation bill of Representative Robert Taft of Hamilton-co., which would in its entirety revise the taxation statute of this state.

Considerable complaint was heard in the Columbus assembly that while cities have not been given sufficient funds to operate properly, schools in many instances have been spending large sums of money for salaries and new buildings and that county governments have been permitted to make large increases in expenditures.

Sentiment was crystallized against further increases in bonded indebtedness by cities and that municipalities should receive a larger portion of the tax receipts. Particular opposition developed to the proposition to give the schools one-half the revenue raised by taxation.

It has been pointed out that there are already so many blocs representative of various interests cluttering the halls of the national congress and state legislatures, there is little chance for interests that are not organized. The situation impelled a candidate in the fall campaign to charge that government as it now exists in Washington is not "Of the people, by the people and for the people," but rather "Of the blocs, by the blocs and for the blocs."

O G O O O

"YES-MEN"

ONE of the best slang phrases ever invented is "yes-men." A "yes-man" is a fellow who always agrees with whatever is proposed, particularly when the proposal is made by his boss or any one else with whom he seeks to win favor.

Around newspaper offices, an editor picks up the latest edition and comments, "Well, that's as good a paper as we've had for some time, don't you think so?"

The "yes-men" instantly nod and chirp their agreement. Their idea, of course, is to flatter the editor's vanity. Then too, by agreeing with whatever is suggested, the "yes-men" is relieved of what he dreads most of all—the agony of doing his own thinking, particularly reaching a personal decision along an original line of thought.

There's a "yes-man" in every office, every factory, every social gathering, every home.

You find them in politics—the voter who votes a straight ticket even the Satan happens to be one of the candidates, and the legislator who can always be counted on for an "Aye!" when one of his political leaders tells him how to make up his mind.

THE "yes-man" follows the line of least resistance. He is a mental loafer. So he rarely rises to the top.

The man with more chance of getting to the top is the "not-by-a-darned-sight-man." This type is aggressive, has ideas of his own, personal convictions and is willing to work for them. Mentally lazy "yes-men" follow him gladly, like sheep follow a leader.

Carried to extremes, the "not-by-a-darned-sight-man" is a bull-head. On general principles, he's opposed to everything suggested, often before he knows what is proposed. Like the shipwrecked sailor who, crawling out on the shore of a strange land, was told "there's a government here." Instantly he said, "I'm agin it."

Much evil is merely good carried to extremes.

WHICH are you—a "yes-man" or a "not-by-a-darned-sight-man"? Answer this question and you know whether, by nature, you are a tugboat doing the hauling or a barge being towed by the tug.

There's a third type that says, "I can't answer offhand, am not sure whether I like this thing or not. Let's go into it very carefully, consider it from all sides, make up our mind after due deliberation. Then, whatever we decide, we'll go after it hammer and tongs."

In the long run, this third type rules the world and its people. For this third type represents conservative progressiveness—which obeys a law of nature by striking "a happy medium."

THE MEDICINE CUPBOARD

Oil of turpentine (also called spirits of turpentine) is not crude turpentine but a pure product of distillation of turpentine. The common turpentine may be used externally but only the distilled oil or spirits should be kept in the medicine cupboard.

In many conditions accompanied with colic or inflammation, and especially when there is much gas present in the intestine, the application of turpentine as a counter irritant is a relief. It is best applied in the form of a stupe, as follows:

Dip a piece of flannel into a dish of water too hot to hold the hand in, and lift the flannel out in a towel, wring out the excess of water by twisting the towel, then sprinkle over the flannel several drops of oil of turpentine, and quickly apply to the belly, allowing it to remain until the skin reddens or the patient complains of burning. It should then be removed and no more turpentine applied, altho the cloth may be repeatedly wrung in hot water, and applied. Nurses usually have a stout cloth pocket or bag opening at one side, with pieces of broomstick thru the ends to twist and wring out the stupe.

Turpentine is a good counter irritant to apply for inflammation within the chest. It is best diluted with two or three times its volume of olive oil, and this may be rubbed on the chest of an adult. For a child, camphorated oil is preferable.

Turpentine is popularly esteemed as an antiseptic or disinfectant for fresh wounds, but is inferior to tincture of iodine for that purpose. It is a parasiticide, and the oil of turpentine mixed with about ten times its volume of vaseline or lard may be applied to ringworm, barber's itch, dew or toe or ground itch and other parasitic affections. Pure oil of turpentine is sometimes a valuable internal vermifuge against "stomach" worms (round or lumbricoid worms) and against tapeworm, but the dose, to be effective must be large, and therefore it is not safe to take without medical attendance.

Turpentine is a poison if taken in large quantities. It causes intense irritation, sometimes inflammation and bleeding of the kidneys. Certain individuals are very sensitive to turpentine and suffer poisonous effects even from inhaling turpentine in a room heavily laden with the vapor, nausea, dizziness, pressure or fullness in the head, painful irritation of the urinary tract, sometimes erythema of the skin.

In the fine old days when all our best families had the itch and called it just that, it was fairly good treatment to sprinkle the bed clothes and nightly with 15 teaspoonfuls of oil of turpentine. The itch mites had a bad night of it and quit the job; the patient had even a worse night and often felt so relieved on leaving his bed that he wrote a testimonial declaring he was about cured. Sometimes he was—about.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
The Taste for Raw Meat
I believe I have a tapeworm, as I want to eat raw meat every time I see it. In what other way does it affect me? What is the cause of them?
—R. V. G.
Answer—You have the cause confused with a symptom or rather you mistake a cause for a symptom. Harkening for raw meat by no means indicates that you harbor any such vermin. But when you eat raw meat you take the risk of being infected with tapeworm. For the larval stage of tapeworm is passed in the flesh of cattle and only the adult or tapeworm stage in the intestine of man. Cooking, if there, destroys any such parasite larvae you may be imbedded in beef—such beef is called "meatly." Another popular misconception of tapeworm infection is that the host has an enormous appetite yet remains thin (the idea being that the tapeworm steals the nourishment). As a matter of fact most persons who actually harbor tapeworms are overweight and have no more prodigious appetites than the general run of folks who overeat. The common tapeworm in this country seldom injures the host's health.

A Little Air in December.
Is there any harm in practicing running out of doors in a gym suit in December?

Answer—No.
Is Housework Work?
Please tell me whether a woman who does all her own housework, except washing and scrubbing, needs other exercise or gymnasium work to keep her fit and well?

Answer—You raise a dangerous question. Is housework work? In a limited sense, yes. A woman who really does all her housework still needs some general exercise every day. In very depraved cases perhaps a dozen rolls and five or ten minutes of selections from the Brady symphony will iron out the kinks and smooth out the wrinkles.

All Authorities.
All authorities say to dispense with olive oil, butter, lard and greasy articles when dieting to reduce flesh.

EATS

When I go out, at times, to dine,
With somewhat jaded appetite,
For hearty grub I do not pine,
I ask for viands shy, slight.
Then eat, perhaps, a little bite
For more than that I do not care.
But when my stomach's working right,
Bring me a Steak—and make it
rare!

Truffles will cause my eyes to shine,
Souffles are pleasant to the sight,
Salads of intricate design
Will make my eyes extremely bright;
But when I'm really hungry, quite,
As famished as the well-known bear,
I cry out to the waiter, "Wight,
Bring me a Steak—and make it
rare!"

When I have dined with hook and line,
Or hunted deer, or ducks in flight,
Fish, flesh or fowl—I like them fine
And eat them with a true delight.
Yet when I get back home, dainty
The fact that game is lordly fare,
I shout aloud with all my might,
"Bring me a Steak—and make it
rare!"

U.S. IS READY TO ACT IN EUROPE

Take Hand As Soon As Circumstances Warrant

NEWS ARE KEPT SECRET

Information Forced to Front by Clemenceau's Visit

(BY A. L. BRADFORD)
WASHINGTON — (United Press) — The serious European situation is squarely before the United States government.
It has been placed there within the last 24 hours by diplomatic representatives of the allies and Germany, who, by informing this government of the latest European developments, are inviting the United States to make any movement that it deems wise.
George Clemenceau, who came here to bring America back to Europe, called for his "La Belle France" today with the knowledge that the American government is studying the question as to what it can do to save or relieve the plight of Europe. The United States is not approaching the problem, as the "Tiger" really wishes.
FORCED TO FORE
But his visit, which turned the thoughts of the American public to foreign affairs for a time at least and the failure of the London conference of European premiers, which may prove the climax of the frantic efforts of the old world statesmen to prevent a final crash in Europe, have forced the European problem to the fore in Washington.

These are the facts that make up the present significant situation:
1—Immediately upon the downfall of the London conference, England, thru Ambassador Geddes here, who was acting on instructions from London, laid the whole question before the American government.
2—Following the conference between Geddes and Secretary of State Hughes, the United Press learned that Hughes also had just been informed by the German government of its latest reparations proposals to Premier Bonar Law, which the allies virtually rejected. This notification to Hughes of the German proposals was in line with the policy of Belfin in recently informing the United States of all important developments in the European economic situation and also by inference is a sort of appeal to this government to do whatever it can. In view of the collapse of the London conference and the threatened occupation of the Ruhr by France, a formal appeal to the United States may soon come from Germany.
3—The White House has let it be known that the American government is active in trying to bring about an adjustment of the European problem, altho the administration's spokesman declares that it is impossible for the present to reveal the exact details of what is being done.
4—Secretary Hughes is known to be following a whole situation most closely and to be prepared to act if the circumstances warrant. The discussions and deliberations of the United States government on the European questions are not the direct result of the campaign in America by Clemenceau and these conversations really started before Clemenceau came to this country.

has been advocating and supporting the very policies of France that are largely responsible for the present plight of Europe, but this government is trying to find a way to help Europe and in that respect the Tiger can go back to his "little cottage by the sea" a happy man.

Ends Stubborn Coughs in a Hurry
For real effectiveness, this old home-made remedy has no equal. Ready and cheaply prepared.

You'll never know how quickly a bad cough can be conquered until you try this famous old home-made remedy. Anyone who has coughed all day and all night, will say that the immediate relief given is almost like magic. It is very easily prepared, and there is nothing better for coughs. Into a pint bottle, put 3/4 ounces of Pinex; then add plain granulated sugar syrup to make a full pint. Or you can use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, the full pint avers about two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough preparations, and gives you a more positive, effective remedy. It keeps perfectly, and tastes pleasant—children like it.

You can feel this take hold instantly, soothing and healing the membranes in all the air passages. It promptly loosens a dry, tight cough, and soon you will notice the phlegm thin out and disappear. A day's use will usually break up an ordinary throat or chest cold, and it is also splendid for bronchitis, croup, hoarseness, and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, the most reliable remedy for throat and chest ailments.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2 1/2 ounces of Pinex with directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

DR. WILCE TALKS AT HIGH SCHOOL GRID BANQUET

PLAYERS PRAISED

(BY MERRICK M. HILL)

High school athletics took on new importance and played a larger part in the educational system of the country than ever before when discussed by Dr. Jack Wilce, coach of the Ohio State football team.

The meeting, given Wednesday night at the Y. M. C. A. in honor of the clean sportsmanship shown by both the South and Central eleven during their season, would have been a wonderful success without Dr. Wilce, but with him to address the audience of more than 100 persons, athletes, school officials and business men of the city, it became one of the brightest spots on the athletic calendar of the season.

Dr. Wilce took as his subject, "Rivalry without rancor," one of the notions put out by the New Ohio stadium, was quoted as being expressive of the idea of true sportsmanship.

Dr. Wilce praised the members of both teams for their clean playing and said that the reputation established by Lima teams was wonderful and that it was this reputation which caused him to accept the invitation to come to Lima.

Ralph Austin spoke to the molecular wearers on behalf of the school board and he also stressed the fact that the football squads of both schools made a success of their year because of their sportsmanship.

Tom Pearson, executive secretary of the Y. M. C. A., who was instigator and promoter of the banquet, brought out the idea very strongly that while there was "Rivalry without rancor" in the game, there was also a feeling of city-pride in the heart of every player on either team.

The banquet was served by high school girls of both schools under the direction of Miss Marguerite Creamer, girls' work secretary of the Y. W. C. A. and Mrs. Tom Pearson.

The Y. M. C. A. orchestra gave a musical program during the meal.

GOOD GAME AT DELPHOS

St. Mary's will furnish the strongest opposition St. John's high quintet of Delphos has backed this season when the teams clash Friday night on the Delphos floor. With a record as good as that of Delphos, the St. Mary's will meet the Blue and Gold on the same terms with respect to weight. Each team has won four out of five this season.

The Blue and Gold lineup may be shifted to present the strongest possible front against the invaders. Fans may see the Elm brothers, Bob and Leon, at forward with Shetley and Davey at guard and Imber at center.

Some new formations have been studied out by Coach Father Burkhardt and the proposed shift will add materially to effectiveness of the team, it is believed.

St. John's has not played since December 5, but practice sessions have been held on the usual schedule. The Blue and Gold engines will be in better fettle than at any time this season.

Owing to a finding that proposed bleacher seats for St. John's auditorium are impracticable, no different seating arrangement is proposed. The hall is simply provided with chairs, however.

Sophomores of St. Mary's high will play the Best Evers of St. John's in a preliminary at 7.

DRAKE LOSES ELEVEN

DES MOINES, Iowa. — Eleven members of the Drake University football team, which finished the season tied with Nebraska for first place in the Missouri Valley Conference, will be missing when the roll is called next fall.

Players to be lost include Peterson, center, Captain Marsh, right guard, Denton and Krueger, tackles, Heath and Devine, who have altered at right end, Ike Armstrong, fullback, and end, George Thorpe, center and end, George Armstrong, tackle, Harley Williams and Bernard James, backs.

"Never in my experience have I worked with a finer bunch of boys than those on the Drake squad this season," said Coach Ogie Solem. Solem says he has more than a dozen men on the squad who will return next fall to fight for places on the team and a group of promising players who should do well with proper experience.

DIFFERENCES OVER DRAFT DUE TO MONEY

NEW YORK. — Arguments between the major and the minor leagues over the draft question are too complicated a matter for the ordinary fan to get himself wildly excited about.

One of the easiest ways to explain the differences between the minor and major leagues on the draft is to turn to page 5 of the report of John Farrell, secretary of the national association and find:

Amount paid for assignment of contracts, minors to majors $894,550.

Additional amounts due if players are retained, $222,820.

That is a total of $1,117,370 that the minors drew in one season for sales of players of the major league.

If the draft prevailed, the names of those players would be stuck in a hat, the major league owners would pull them out and give the owners of the player an amount varying from $1,500 to $2,500.

The players went up to the majors during the last season and the ones that are going on next spring might not have drawn more than $200,000 in the draft.

Ban Johnson, criticizing the refusal of the leading minor leagues to accept the draft said that sending players to them is like throwing the players in bondage. How about the two rookie shortstops the Yanks bought?

Edward denies emphatically that any animosity is held against Princeton at Cambridge. Nevertheless the opinion prevails at Princeton—"Wait till we lose a game." Harvard hardly can bounce the Tigers off the Crimson football schedule, as long as Princeton persists in beating them.

Various colleges and universities have different ideas about football advertising. Some little teams figure they can get a reputation by being knocked off by big eleven and Cornell proceeds along the line that knocking over all the little ones makes fame.

Bucknell, for instance, played the Navy, Lafayette, Pittsburgh, Lehigh, Georgetown and Rutgers. Cornell finished a season without defeat by playing St. Bonaventure, Niagara, New Hampshire State, Colgate, Columbia, Dartmouth, Albright and Penn. There was no way of knowing last season that Colgate and Penn would have strong teams or Vassar might have been added to the schedule.

Howard "Hoddy" Gray, Princeton's star end, was one of the outstanding ends of the whole country. His most spectacular feat was the recovery of a fumble in the Chicago game and a run of forty yards for a touchdown.

Gray is one of the most prominent students at Princeton in addition to being a fine athlete. He holds four of the highest offices opened to an undergraduate at the university.

He is president of the senior class; chairman of the senior council, the governing body of the university; president of the Philadelphia society; the campus, "Y," the Varsity Club, the Ivy Club and the Polity Club.

In athletics he is a letter man in football and track.

LIMA A.A. American League To Urge Drastic Change In Rules

NEW YORK. — Efforts of the American League to make a home run. A home run hardly will interfere with the operation of Babe Ruth if the swat king has any operating left in him.

The club owners of the Ban Johnson circuit is acting against the Duke home run took cognizance of the increasing apathy of the fans toward theft of Ruth's stuff by mere ordinary hitters.

In joint session with the National League today the American League magnates will propose that a home run must be a drive of three hundred feet and the pop flies into right field stands in many places around the circuit to be held down to doubles and triples.

It was brought out in the discussion that the moguls were not trying to impose a handicap on Ruth and that they were not meaning to make light of his ability. It was pointed out that few of the swat king's drives were less than 300 feet and that he would get just as many under the new regulations if he has not lost himself.

In addition to comment upon slugging under false pretenses the American League magnates discussed such vitally important things as the necessity for the use of clean uniforms on the road and the danger of allowing liquids to be sold in bottles during the season.

It will be remembered that Whitely Witt, Yank outfielder hit himself with a bottle at St. Louis last fall and was nearly ruined. This incident was not discussed, however. Two more Pacific Coast League phenoms graduated to fast company in the most important deals of the season. The Philadelphia Nationals for the first time in ages spent some money in acquiring Heinie Sands, a young shortstop from the Salt Lake City team. The reported price was $40,000. On top of Connie Mack's alleged investment of $75,000, in Sammy Hale, the recklessness of the Philadelphia magnates with their money caused several casualties.

The Pirates gave $5,000 and three players to the Sacramento club for E. D. Kuntz, a young player who is still negotiating, it was learned today that the Eddie Collins deal between the Yanks and the White Sox is off and that the Yanks are trying to pry Jimmy Dykes away from the Athletics.

Tris Speaker and the Cleveland crowd have been very busy at the meeting and a deal is expected to be announced today.

WHAT AILS THEATRES AND AUDIENCES TODAY?

BY ESTHER WAGNER

It's pretty tough to be laughed at, isn't it? Merton of the movies says, "Sometimes the funniest thing in the world is a laugh." Merton is the youth who went to Hollywood to uplift the movies and was laughed out of countenance by the studio folk, if you remember the Harry Leon Wilson comedy that they laughed at him. They laughed at him because he was so serious, so sincere.

Now Merton is talking to Glenn Hunter, who is playing the character on the stage and is to play it on the screen.

"Do you know what is the matter with the theaters today," he asks, "the audiences," he answered his question. "They see so many plays, so many fine pictures and they don't fully appreciate it. The people have grown blasé. They do not value the best of everything in the theater."

Elsie Reaches New Heights in "Outcast"

"Outcast," we can safely state, is the greatest individual contribution of the great actress, Elsie Ferguson, in acting of the mind, as you watch her, you become convinced that she is living the part of the outcast rather than merely portraying it.

"It is this mental attitude, whereby the actor or actress hypnotizes himself into believing that he is really the character he is playing, that accounts for the few really great impersonations we have ever witnessed. As you watch her in this splendid role, you yearn for a chance to bring all the exquisitely married, beautifully gowned young girls with you, and watch them learn what real acting is."

Football Star Featured in Operetta

WELDON WINEGARDNER, captain of South High's football eleven, will have the leading role in a charming operetta, "In Old Louisiana," which will be presented at the Central auditorium on Friday evening, by members of the South High School club.

The story of the offering concerns one who lived in the south before the Civil War, and is a delightful and interesting subject. The costumes, sets, are most effective and redolent of the quaintness and picturesqueness of this famous period in American history.

The characters are the most talented of the South High school students and the several different choruses that will appear will furnish melody galore.

Among the most interesting features of the play are: The Creole dance and song, a duel, many pretty love

He is very ambitious, and yet he seems at times utterly to despair of achieving his ambitions. He wants to play "L'Aiglon" on the stage and on the screen, and he feels that he ought to do it before he gets too old, yet he is timid about discussing plans for it.

If you know Hunter's life story you'll appreciate why he is so serious. He has wanted to be an actor ever since he was 12. He went to New York when he was 17, sleeping in railroad stations and on park benches. He had not eaten for two days when he picked up a newspaper containing an article by Zoe Beckley in which she pleaded for recognition for those with talent and ambition who so often find the door shut to them.

Hunter went to see her and through her influence obtained a small part with the Washington Square Players at $10 a week.

Even in those days he was laughed at for his seriousness. Little wonder that he thinks laughter a cruel thing now!

No, you shall not know the story. It's far too exciting for that, and its telling would only mar your subsequent enjoyment. Besides, the title is indicative of what it's all about, and perhaps you were one of the many fortunate ones who saw the story in its stage form.

Chet Whitney has done a splendid bit of direction with the story, with the possible exception of the last reel or so. Why WILL directors persist in crowding all the thrills in the last few feet?

Anyway, you'll be crazy about "Outcast" and about Elsie Ferguson. She is entirely different from all other screen actresses. She IS an actress.

The Quilna presents "Outcast" again today and until Sunday.

scenes, a May-pole dance, and lots of negro comedy.

The leading characters are: Richard St. John, a young sugar planter, Weldon Winegardner; Rose, Pilot Farley's adopted daughter, Mary Dudley; Robert Farley, Pilot's son; Martha St. John, Richard's sister, Katherine Cheney; Monty Gray, Richard's friend from the north, Carl Beverly; Simon Scudder, Jack Martin and Holly Firms, the villains who try to prove Rose is an orphan slave; Old Ned and his wife Judy, negro servants of the Pilot's and several different choruses. Action in the piece takes place in the year 1852.

The performance will start at 8 o'clock. Miss Jones and Mr. Brunson are directing the music and dramatic work. Miss Haddell is director of dances and Miss Roess has charge of the costumes.

A Chat With Miss Fraley, on Girls

GIRLS don't use make up on the streets. This is the advice of Miss Thelma Fraley, leading lady with "Honey Bunch" at the New Orpheum this week.

Miss Fraley herself wears make up in layers about six hours out of each twenty-four and perhaps this one reason she has decided views on the subject of street make up.

When seen by a News reporter in her dressing room at the New Orpheum Miss Fraley was attired in one of the gowns that are becoming the vogue of the women, her face was almost hidden under the layers of rouge and powder. Her eyebrows were heavily pencil lined and her lashes carried heavy heads. She laid aside a copy of Robert Louis Stevenson and at once launched a bitter attack against girls who use street make up.

"I just wish some of these high school girls were compelled to use half of this grease and paint for a few days. They would soon be glad to quit," she said.

"If girls only realized how common and ridiculous they look when they are all rouged and painted up, their eyebrows darkened and their lips painted, I think they would stop. And the worst part of it all is when they start they seem to think that they must continue and use artificial complexion. It will kill natural beauty in a short time," says Miss Fraley.

"Up in the Clouds" Scores Triumphant Hit

JOS. M. GAITES' "Up in the Clouds," which appeared for one performance only at the Faurot Opera House on Wednesday evening, proved a story meritorious and delightful musical comedy, and was witnessed by a large and brilliant audience.

Of outstanding interest were the strikingly beautiful dances by John Siffler and Cecile D'Andrea, who in glittering raiment, interpreted many of the play's most important numbers. Mr. Ledru, in the "Money Paganant" was a figure of palatial beauty and assisted, by a charming partner, Miss D'Andrea, delighted with his unusual and artistic interpretation.

Brilliant of lovely girls were much in evidence, beautiful garbed, perfect dancers, and having adorable voices, as well. Mr. Jack Sheehan was the chief comedian and Gertrude O'Connor as Ruby Alredale, kept the audience in gales of laughter by their rapid fire wit and clever humor.

"The Passing of Six Months," an exquisitely mounted pageant of the season, won a storm of applause, while the fountain dance, by Miss D'Andrea and Mr. Harry Walters, was one of the most original and plicable exhibitions of the art ever to appear on the Faurot stage.

As a whole, the performance of

GLENN HUNTER WHO IS PLAYING "MERTON OF THE MOVIES" ON THE STAGE AND WILL PLAY IT ON THE SCREEN.

"Up in the Clouds" registered one hundred per cent with local audiences. In the size and excellence of the company, beauty of costume and scenery, plot, music and effects, the show is perfect.

for Xmas

Ford's latest price drop — the one that set the whole world talking has also started folks to buying in a way that promises to establish new sales records for the winter season. When Ford cut the price $50.00 on all Ford models, literally hundreds of thousands of people who previously felt they could not afford a motor car became immediate prospects for a machine. Thousands of folks who had put off buying, suddenly decided to become Ford owners at once. Place your order now. We'll make delivery at any date you say.

SHORT SHAVINGS

Winfield Hauss, Wapakoneta auto salesman, was driving to the near-by village of St. Johns.

When the gas gets low in a fly-war, the driver can go farther by backing up hills, which lifts the tank right to drain the gas into the engine.

Half way up a hill he found a touring flivver squarely across the road. The driver had been backing it up and had stopped to rest. "How far is it to the next town?" asked the tourist.

"I can tell you," said Hauss, "if you can tell me which way you are going."

Stewart Green has a clerk in his drug store who has heretofore been very optimistic concerning people in general, but he is now convinced that at least some of the Dumb Dora stories must be correct.

One day a woman entered the store and said she had just met a young man whose legs had been amputated.

"She wanted to ask about artificial limbs so she could solicit funds among her friends to put the young man on his feet again," she told the clerk.

She was given all the information as to price and differences in quality.

"The next day she came in again," the clerk tells, "and said she wanted to know before deciding on the purchase of a certain grade whether artificial feet would perspire."

John Keville relates that when he was employed in a grocery he sold a bill of supplies to a woman.

"When she departed she left behind a copy of a popular 5-cent weekly magazine she had just bought. Later Keville received a telephonic call.

"She dropped a nickel in the slot of a pay telephone to locate the magazine," he says, "instead of buying another copy with the nickel."

SPIRITUALIST AND SCIENTIST

SUBJECT: SPIRITUALISM VS. THEOLOGY

Will reply to recent denunciations that the phenomena of Spiritualism is the work of clever charlatans and the works of the Devil.

Spiritualism is accepted by the World's Greatest Scientists, including Sir Oliver Lodge and Sir Arthur Conan Doyle after 30 years of Research and Laboratory Work.

Mr. West recently challenged the Rev. W. E. Biederwolf to debate on Spiritualism vs. Theology. The Rev. replied as follows:—"Nothing doing." You have the press and platform as well as I.
